CENSORS TAMPER WITH LOCAL MAIL

Many Letters Received Here in Torn and Mutilated Condition.

GERMAN OFFICERS TAKEN

David Caura Writes East Moline Friends From Falmouth, England—On Steamer.

Foreigners, born residents of this city and East Moline, who receive mail from Europe report that in numerous cases they find that their letters have been tampered with. In some cases parts have been torn out altogether and those who receive the mail on this side of the water therefore get but meager details of the great conflict now in progress across the Atlantic. This tampering with the mail is done by the censors who are desirous of keeping the world at large in ignorance regarding details of the struggle. In cases where battles are described or comment made regarding either side the letters are always torn.

German Soldiers Captured.

David Caura, formerly of East Moline now in Falmouth, England, writes of his experiences while crossing the Atlantic as follows:

"We were stopped today by an English man-of-war. Officers from that ship came on board and after an examination they sent our boat to Falmouth where there is a naval station. There are about 100 German officers on our vessel, booked as passengers, but after we had docked in Falmouth and stayed there over night,

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

AL JENNINGS HOT AFTER "CROOKS" WHO HE SAYS CHEATED HIM OUT OF VICTORY

Al Jennings.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 12.—Though defeated in his race for the democratic gubernatorial nomination, Al Jennings, reformed train robber, still continues to make his influence felt in the political life of Oklahoma. In a recent statement he announced that he will contest the primary election nomination, as he believes there was ballot stealing; that he will do his utmost to send the alleged election thieves to the penitentiary, and that he will take the stump during the fall campaign in an effort to arouse the voters of Oklahoma to an understanding of the crookedness he alleges exists in public life in Oklahoma.

Despite the odds against him, Jennings received 22,000 votes. The highest number reported for any candidate was about 37,000. Jennings was third in the race. He and his friends openly charge that he was the victim of heavy steals by election officials. Most of the other defeated democratic candidates, either publicly or privately are making a similar charge.

At the beginning of his campaign Jennings' opponents asserted that he was only seeking notoriety. But two weeks later he was drawing more people to hear him speak than were assembled by all the other candidates combined. Men and women who at first looked askance upon the former train robber became his most zealous converts. There was no getting away from Jennings, once his voice was raised in his appeal for good government and for a chance for the underdog to redeem himself.

Ministers, lawyers, business men and hoboes listened to him and believed in him. In every audience every German and Austrian passenger was taken off the Potsdam. There were about 450 in the three classes of passengers.

"We expect to leave here for Rotterdam tomorrow evening if the English will let us pass through the channel. Our wireless was taken down as soon as the English officers came aboard.

"I cannot give other news at this time, but will write when I reach the scene of the war."

All the news all the time—The Argus.

were men with line-scarred faces, an unmistakable, furtive glance and an uneasy shifting of feet, who stood looking at him with an incredulous, yet wistful expression, trying to convince themselves that they had run against the real thing, and that it was actually true that it was worth while for a man to try to rise out of the pit and lift up his face. Jennings talked to them in their own vernacular. He tried to put a "punch" into each one of them.

July and August in Oklahoma blazed like a furnace. The heat made men reel in the streets. Despite all this, men and women jammed round the wagon when Jennings spoke at night, and he held these audiences for long hours. None left him.

The fact that Jennings failed to get the nomination has not lessened public interest in him. His brother Frank was his campaign manager. Both rode the "long trail" together in the old days. Both have "beat back." "There are more than 30,000 Oklahoma voters who believe in me," says Jennings. "I told them I would fight for an honest election and I propose to see that the ballots are counted as they were cast. I am going to break the back of the democratic machine in Oklahoma, just as I promised I would."

Hundreds of influential men of all political parties are rallying to support Jennings, who, in a public statement appealing for funds with which to carry on his campaign, says his goal is to stop criminal and excessive use of money to procure nominations, to punish election thieves and to cause their removal as officials by civil action.

CITY WATER IS DECLARED SAFE

Commissioner Eastman Issues Public Statement Regarding Supply.

In a statement issued today by the city health department, assertion is made that the city water is absolutely pure and safe for drinking purposes, despite alleged reports to the contrary. Commissioner E. L. Eastman received a report from City Chemist Fritz regarding the condition of water here, and said:

"The city water is not contaminated and is absolutely safe for drinking purposes. Mr. Fritz tests the water twice every day of the year and his reports show that there has not been a time this summer that the water has not been absolutely safe. "All of the water that is going through the mains is filtered and treated. There has been but one occasion this summer when water was turned into the mains without passing through the filter beds. That was for one hour on July 1. The water, however, although not filtered, was treated, and pure and safe for drink."

Surprising Results From the Use of

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

For imparting health to the scalp and luxuriance to the hair nothing excels Newbro's Herpicide. It is familiarly known to thousands of users throughout the World as the Original Remedy for destroying dandruff contagion and saving the hair and as a delightful hair-dressing. The letter from Mrs. C. K. Sharp of Luverne, Ala., which comes voluntarily and unsolicited, is a glowing tribute to the wonderful power for good concealed in this well-known scalp prophylactic.

READ MRS. SHARP'S LETTER

Luverne, Ala., Feb. 16, 1913.
I want to give my testimonial on the wonderful results of using Herpicide. December 14th, 1911, we adopted a little girl from the Orphanage. Her head was almost entirely covered with what we term "scaled head," one side being entirely bald. I used every remedy I ever read or heard of including physician's prescriptions but they availed nothing. At last in desperation and as an experiment, because it isn't advertised for that, I began on Herpicide. The first few applications stopped the itching. After using two and a half bottles she was entirely cured. I wish you could see her hair. If I had used any more Herpicide I don't know what we would have done with it as she already has hair enough for two. The bald places are well covered and it is peculiar that all the new hair is curly while the old hair is straight. The child, whose name is Elcurtis is now eight years old and calls herself the "Herpicide Girl." MRS. C. K. SHARP.

Each day reveals almost marvelous and frequently astonishing results achieved by the use of NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE. There are surprises in every bottle which may be expected by the one who uses HERPICIDE carefully and intelligently. While the results are not always of such an astonishing nature as those experienced by Mrs. Sharp they are invariably satisfying.

HERPICIDE eradicates the contagion that causes dandruff and thus checks itching of the scalp and falling hair. The life, luster and luxuriance of the hair, so intensely admired by everyone, has come to be naturally associated with NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE, the exquisite and delightful hair-dressing.
